

From: Chris Jerdonek, OSVTAC Chair
Date: October 10, 2019

RE: New Open Source Voting Project Links

ElectionGuard SDK

Here is a link to the GitHub repository for Microsoft's open source "ElectionGuard SDK," which was posted in the last couple weeks:

- <https://github.com/microsoft/ElectionGuard-SDK>

The repo's README contains links to related ElectionGuard repos.

Here is a link to Microsoft's September 24, 2019 blog post announcing the release of the source code:

<https://blogs.microsoft.com/on-the-issues/2019/09/24/electionguard-available-today-to-enable-secure-verifiable-voting/>

Ranked Choice Voting Universal Tabulator

Here is a link to a GitHub repo for an open source "universal RCV tabulator":

- <https://github.com/BrightSpots/rcv>

The tabulator was developed by volunteers based in San Francisco and has been certified for use in Eastpointe, Michigan this November.